BELOVED COMMUNITY, ON THE JOURNEY TOGETHER – A NOTE FROM REV. FALLON

This summer, amidst all our comings and goings, we have been Church, together in this place called King's Chapel: rejoicing with each other at weddings, weeping together over deaths, walking alongside one another during surgery and chemotherapy, bearing with one another when misunderstandings arise, sharing "punch on the bricks" outside after a service, gathered in the summer breeze. We've been "the beloved community" – on the journey of life and discovery, together.

It's what we do as a church community. It's a home to which we can always return.

This notion of what Church really is anchors me.

Because as a do-er and planner, I'd been excited to finish one program year of our church life, and anticipate the next, beginning in September. We've had two wonderful groups of people serve on Task Forces: they've looked at ways in which we might grow, serving more young people or families, reaching out to the newcomers moving downtown, adding another service. The potential for King's Chapel in our city is great, and you all were dreaming with me about how we could move forward.

But then we had a setback in late May. The new Assistant Minister whom we'd called – a wonderful and gifted man – decided that due to changes in his personal life, he could not relocate to Boston on July 1, and we've had to begun our long search process again. Our Church School Director has graduated from Divinity School and is moving into her new profession. The dreams I was dreaming for this autumn seem harder to put into motion. I told our Junior Warden: "You know all those things that I keep preaching about – about trusting in the Love that undergirds the Universe? Now I have to do that."

Isn't Trust always easier said than done?

But then Trust nudges up against me, as I sit and read ancient words: "I will make a way in the wilderness and rivers in the desert." Love lifts its head from the Facebook page where young people have found beauty and meaning in life, even after a friend's suicide. Encouragement slides across the lunch table when a longtime church member offers a seasoned perspective. Strength encircles me when the Lay Reader and I pray together before the service, and she says, "I needed to be here this morning." And I realize I needed to be here, also. All of this is what King's Chapel already is. Church together, where Love and Trust can grow.

Last Sunday, these were the words from Paul: "What can separate us from the love of God?" Nothing. Nothing at all. So we gather as church and do our best to love one another, in good times and in bad. We gather to tell the story one more time: that when the worst that could have happened in life did happen, God wasn't done yet, and Life was reborn anew, resurrected. That's the age old promise, through the Old Testament's story of a child Isaac born to ancient Abraham and Sarah – life anew! It's the story of families escaping Egypt's slavery through Moses' Exodus – life anew! It's the story of the weak and insignificant being healed, raised to their feet by a Love that valued them as beloved children of God. Life anew! It's the story of Wisdom, the very Bread of Life coming among us humans and feeding us so we will no longer hunger. Life anew!

Particular plans for an autumn will come and go; staff with leave and be hired; but the church is so much more: a home to which we can always return, grounded in a Love that knows no bounds, that offers us a way to Life Anew.

It's astounding, isn't it? When can you next be with us, this Beloved Community? We are the home to which you can always return.

With many blessings,
Joy

FAMILY SERVICE -- OPEN TO ALL!

Church School Starts Up Homecoming Sunday

Our bi-weekly Family Service and Church School will start up again on Homecoming Sunday, Sept. 21st at 9:45 AM in the Little Chapel. All are invited to join us for a more informal, song-filled service the first and third Sundays of each month. This service is offered especially with church families in mind, but all are welcome and have found it refreshing. Come and see!

And check out the new configuration in the Little Chapel:

Because the Little Chapel was renovated in the early 2000s with movable pews, we are able to worship in different configurations. What style are you most drawn to? Come and visit. Carl Scovel recently saw the Little Chapel's new design and loved it: "You're immediately brought to Christ's Table," he said.

How wonderful if when we come into church, we all feel as if we're part of a family gathering around a table to be fed.

SPIRITUAL JOURNEY COURSE WITH REV. FALLON – OCTOBER AND NOVEMBER

Renewing a tradition first begun by the Rev. Dr. Carl Scovel, our Minister Emeritus, Joy Fallon will be offering an 8 week course this fall entitled, Your Spiritual Journey. The course will meet once a week for 8 weeks; members must be able to commit to coming to all 8 sessions, to allow group cohesion.

Led by easy writing prompts, we will explore different ways you may have experienced the Spirit in your life, during different seasons, and through these small vignettes, will open the door into your personal spiritual journey. Many people who have taken the class before may be interested in taking it again, to discover at another level, now at a later time of their lives, how God has been present or absent, how God may be seeking to catch your attention and enrich you further.

Members also will share their experiences with others in the group, in a confidential setting, and at the end of the class, will each write their Spiritual Autobiography, as they now understand it.

Joy is considering offering the course either during the day or early evening; if you are interested in attending, please let her know your preference. A final schedule will be announced in September, with classes to run in October and November. joy@kings-chapel.org

HARBORFEST REPORT FROM THE KING'S CHAPEL FREEDOM TRAIL TEAM

Harborfest was a great success this year for the King's Chapel Freedom Trail Program! From July 2 to July 6, the guide staff welcomed over 8,000 visitors through our doors and entertained and educated them with quality programming. We introduced a new-for-2014 version of Tory Stories, which told a more somber and touching story of the lives of the Loyalists and the Patriots who once sat in the King's Chapel pews. This year we also ran a very well attended "Puritans, Patriots and Pirates" tour of King's Chapel Burying Ground, and ran our "Bells and Bones" crypt and bell tower tour every half hour, selling out almost all of the tours! Even a rainy Independence Day didn't dampen spirits, as our friends the Downtown Ambassadors sent soggy visitors looking for a reprieve from the rain through our doors.

We received great feedback from our guests regarding all of the programming, and experiencing the beauty of King's Chapel. The guide staff is looking forward to welcoming many more visitors throughout the rest of the summer, and we have lots of exciting new programming initiatives coming down the pipeline; stay tuned!

WEDDING CONGRATULATIONS

This summer has been full of weddings. Join in celebrating with these friends of King's Chapel:

Malisa Iannino and Michael Frakes – wed at King's Chapel on June 14th by the Rev. Kristen Grassel-Schmidt

Caroline Robertson and Orian Welling - wed in Wyoming on June 28th

Lauren Ready and Jean-Michel Noel - wed on July 14th at King's Chapel by Rev. Fallon

Micah Niemy and Carrie Dancy - wed on July 19 in New Hampshire

Tom Shoemaker and Allie Jameson - to be wed at King's Chapel on Saturday, August 2nd by Rev. Fallon

Colin Green and Cara Busch - to be wed at King's Chapel on Saturday, August 9th by Rev. Fallon

Alicia Kingston and Robert Hunting - to be wed at King's Chapel on September 6th by Rev. Fallon

... And Celebrating an Anniversary! Heard at King's Chapel: Ray Lynds, regular worshipper with us every Wednesday at 12:15, is celebrating his 25th wedding anniversary on August 2nd. "My wife is a saint!" says Ray, with a grin. "Ray is, too," responds Charles Dimino, who organizes the services every week. Congratulations to Ray and his wife.

COMMUNITY ACTION COMMITTEE:
FALL SERVICE/LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES

When was the last time you did some hands-on volunteer service? As we enjoy a relaxing summer, perhaps you'll think about making a commitment now to a few hours of active service in September. Active service helps us learn and refreshes our spirits, different from giving money or service to our own church or personal interests. CAC currently has two opportunities for your consideration:

#1 Habitat for Humanity build in Boston Saturday,

September 13, approx. 9-3:30

What could be more rewarding than helping a family build their own home? No special skills are required beyond willingness and the ability to follow directions. This is all about helping, being part of a project with a very tangible result, a home for someone who needs it. There is a fee of $40 per participant for materials (please inquire about a "scholarship" if you need it). Contact Peter Sexton to commit (and pay up!) NOW... so you won't be tempted to put this off until your fall schedule gets booked up, and then you can't do it.

#2 Joint program of UU Urban Ministry and Islamic Society of Boston Sunday, *September 28, 2-4:30

This event includes visits to both the UUUM's First Church/Roxbury and the new mosque at Roxbury Crossing, the largest mosque in New England. Learn how these neighboring faith communities... UUs and Muslims... put their faith into action in the city, and how we can help to foster interfaith dialogue.

Need encouragement? Contact Amy Meyer, CAC chair (amymeyerw@comcast.net; 617 523-3780).

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Our congregation also has mourned the deaths of two beloved members:

Alden Palermo, age 23, son of Lark Palermo. The memorial service for Alden was on Saturday, July 26th at noon, at King's Chapel.

Barbara Coolidge, age 87, beloved wife for 65 years of Hamilton Coolidge. The service for Barbara was at the Mount Auburn Cemetery on May 31st.

THE 2014 MINNS LECTURE SERIES

Kate Braestrup Talks About Men, Women, and Children: Loving One Another in a Complicated World

In 2007, the Rev. Kate Braestrup, a UU minister and chaplain to the Maine Warden Service, won the hearts of readers across the country with her award-winning memoir Here If You Need Me, a deeply moving account of finding God by helping others who were lost, hurt, or searching for those who were in the wilds of Maine. Since then, she has continued to write, speak, and preach with compassion, wisdom, and humor about the big issues in life – marriage and family, faith, love, loss, and the presence of God in it all.

Lecture 1: MEN, Friday, November 7, 7 pm, King's Chapel, 58 Tremont Street, Boston

"If you want to be a law enforcement chaplain," Kate Braestrup writes, "you have to really like men." Law enforcement remains a male-dominated field, it is paramilitary and hierarchical, and most officers use traditionally masculine tools (weapons, machines) to perform a traditionally male form of love that is often underappreciated: to serve and protect. Kate will explore the challenges and opportunities of working with such men.

Lecture 2: WOMEN, Saturday, November 8, 10 am, First Church Boston, 66 Marlborough Street, Boston

Social critic Michael Moore says that women continue to bring life into the world, while men continue to destroy it whenever they can. Knowing that it's more complicated than that, Kate will draw on her own experiences as a minister, a woman, and the mother of daughters, as well as on scripture and history, to consider the moral dimensions of women's lives and loves.

Lecture 3: CHILDREN, Saturday, November 8, 12:30 pm, First Church Boston, 66 Marlborough Street, Boston

A neonatal intensive care unit pediatrician asked Kate's eldest son, "What do you want for your son?" This question was about medicine not parenting, neurology not theology. Still, the doctor asked a perfect question, one that might be asked of any parent at any time, and of any human being courageous or foolish enough to love another. And it ought to be asked of God whenever (or if ever) an opportunity for a divine interview presents itself. Kate will consider and explore her daughter-in-law's (perfect) answer: "I want him to be conscious of his surroundings. I want him to love and know that he is loved."

Concluding Sermon, Sunday, November 9, 11 am, King's Chapel, 58 Tremont Street, Boston

FIRST CHURCH-KING'S CHAPEL HABITAT FOR HUMANITY BOSTON BUILD

Five King's Chapel participants joined five individuals from First Church Boston Saturday, June 28 to volunteer for Habitat for Humanity Boston. The combined team worked on the continuing construction of the condominium housing on Bradeen Street in Roslindale. The build was organized by John Thompson of First Church. KC and First Church have worked together in various Boston locations and in Kolozsvar, Romania where each has a partner church.

The neighborhood surrounding Bradeen Street is a revitalizing community with many new restaurants and institutions reflecting the changing demographics of Roslindale. E.g., across from HFH construction is a Vietnamese Buddhist temple and community center.

HFH is constructing 3 attractive buildings which are in harmony with the surroundings. The photo shows one of the buildings and the combined team from both churches. In total 6 families will be accommodated. According to Lark Palermo, the President and CEO of HFH Boston and a King's Chapel member, one of the major goals of the Boston HFH affiliate is to strengthen neighborhoods.

KC was represented by Emanuel Genovese, Todd Lee, K.C. Dalton, Anne Sexton, and Peter Sexton. Construction during the day consisted of installing layered wooden flooring to support tile, caulking windows, cutting wood for window frame surrounds and installing the same. Paul Szabo, the HFH site supervisor, stressed 1. safety, 2. quality, 3 quantity. We met the goals without issue.

At lunchtime the KC crew revisited the Guira & Tambora Dominican Restaurant and enjoyed an authentic Dominican meal.

We are in the early stages of planning a King's Chapel HFH Boston build on a Saturday in September. Our goal is to fill the team with KC participants. If you have interest in participating contact Peter Sexton, petersexton@alum.mit.edu or 781-383-9028 to assure you get notification at the earliest possible time.

Alden Palermo Memorial Build-Cape Town, South Africa: Peter Sexton is leading a Habitat for Humanity Global Village build to Cape Town, South Africa starting May 22, 2015. This build is being dedicated to the memory of Alden Palermo who tragically passed away recently. Five members of the King's Chapel community are participating in this activity. As we go to press there are 2 unfilled positions on the team. If you have any interest, please contact Peter Sexton, petersexton@alum.mit.edu or 781 383-9028.

SIR ISAAC NEWTON WAS A UNITARIAN

"Sarah Dry's engaging book, "The Newton Papers", traces what happened to Newton's unpublished manuscripts after his death. A lifelong bachelor, Sir Isaac Newton died without leaving a will. His papers were inherited by John Conduitt, who had married Newton's closest relative and housekeeper, his half-niece Catherine Barton. Conduitt started an effort to publish a biography of Newton, but in the end it was unsuccessful. As Ms Dry makes clear, Conduitt had a vested interest in guarding Newton's reputation as a paragon of science. Conduitt probably recognised the explosive nature of Newton's religious writings, which showed him to favour the doctrine of one God, denying the unity of Father, Son and Holy Ghost. Such anti-Trinitarianism would have been considered heretical by Newton's contemporaries. It was common at the time for Cambridge faculty members (all of them men) to take holy orders in the Church of England; Newton, true to himself, refused."

POETRY IN THE GARDEN

July 30 in the King's Chapel House Garden from 6-7:30 p.m. Have some refreshments of a summer's evening and explore the spiritual poetry of R. S. Thomas. It would be great if you could let us know you will be there.

Find more information about R.S. Thomas by googling r.s. thomas poems. A good link is Poetry Chaikhana R.S. Thomas where you will see

Kneeling,
The Bright Field,
Threshold,
Via Negativa

Additional poems by R.S. Thomas I would like us to consider are:

The Absence
The Empty Church
The Other

You can download these directly by googling the poet and the name of the poem.

Please call Ciel at 781-647-0719 or Jess at the Parish House at 617 227 2155. This is a rain or shine series. We will convene in the King's Chapel House first floor library if the skies open. Both the Garden and Library may be found at 64 Beacon St. Boston. Hope to see you there!

ANNOUNCEMENTS, UPDATES, & EVENTS

- ✘ KATE BRAESTRUP – UU MINISTER AND BEST-SELLING AUTHOR – NOV. 7-9: The Rev. Kate Braestrup, best-selling author of Here if You Need Me, and other books on marriage and prayer, will offer the Minns lectures this year, and preach at King's Chapel on Sunday, Nov. 9 at 11 AM. Braestrup will offer three talks about "Men, Women Children: Loving One Another in a Complicated World." Lectures will be held Friday night at King's Chapel, on Saturday at the First Parish on Marlboro Street.
- ✘ CAREGIVING AS A SPIRITUAL JOURNEY: On Thursday evening, October 16, we will hear from UU minister, the Rev. Jade Angelica, recent author of the thoughtful book entitled Where Two Worlds Touch: A Spiritual Journey Through Alzheimers Disease. An expert in Alzheimers, Rev. Angelica will address the spiritual aspects of being a caretaker for a loved one with dementia or other long-term illness. Offered by the Adult Religious Education Committee. For more information, contact Betsy Peterson, betsy.peterson@verizon.net
- ✘ LABYRINTH WALK AT THE PERKINS' HOME – SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 27TH: Come for a quiet, meditative walk in the Labyrinth that Cynthia and Dick Perkins have built on their beautiful property in Stow, Massachusetts. Labyrinths are ancient contemplative settings, and unlike a maze, you cannot get lost. Rather, the object is to mindfully follow the one path, and it always leads to the Center where you may find an answer, where you may find you can put down a worry to leave behind. Watch for more information, directions, and carpool information.
- ✘ NORTHERN HARMONY CONCERT – SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 14TH, 5 P.M.: Northern Harmony will kick off the King's Chapel Concert series this year. This professional group will sing for us before heading off on tour. Adam Simon, a member of the King's Chapel choir, also sings for Northern Harmony, which is known for its varied repertoire taken from cultures all over the world. For more information, see <http://northernharmony.pair.com/about/nh.html>
- ✘ CHOIR CABARET: FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, SEPT. 27, 28: Hold the date for another wonderful cabaret hosted by the Altos of King's Chapel, with many supporting cast members from other sections. Laugh and marvel with the audience at the witty songs re-cast by our beautiful singers. Great food is always available, too. Don't miss it this year. Friday and Saturday, September 27th and 28th in the Parish House Livingroom, 64 Beacon Street. Contributions support the choir concert series. Watch for more information.
- ✘ CELEBRATE HOMECOMING SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 21ST: Join other new and old friends at King's Chapel for our annual Homecoming Worship Service and Luncheon at the Parish House. We look forward to seeing everyone there. For questions, contact Anne Sexton, Chair of Hospitality, anne.sexton@alumni.norwich.edu
- ✘ UPDATING THE PARISH DIRECTORY: During the month of August, Carolyn Russ, Chair of the Parish Council, will work with Julina Rundberg, Parish Administrator, and others interested in updating our Parish Directory. If you have updates to your email address, home address, cell phone or other contact information, we'd love to receive it from you. Because we are a large and scattered community, it's hard to keep track of everyone, and we don't want to lose a soul! For more information, contact Carolyn at clynruss@earthlink.net or Julina at Julina@kings-chapel.org
- ✘ PRAYERS : At King's Chapel we hold in prayer any who request it. For those who would like private prayers said for them by our Prayer Chain, please contact Lee Glenn, at leeglenn@verizon.net. We also pray aloud during each service for those requesting it. To be added to this list, called "the Bede list" please contact Rev. Fallon or the church offices. joy@kings-chapel.org; admin@kings-chapel.org The Bede list is updated weekly.

KING'S CHAPEL HABITAT FOR HUMANITY BOSTON BUILD- SEPTEMBER 13, 2014

Enrolment is now open for the September 13, 2014 King's Chapel Habitat for Humanity Boston build. The build runs from 9:00 AM to 3:30 PM with a one hour lunch break. In the past the KC teams have enjoyed lunch in one of the local ethnic restaurants. The build will be at one of the HFH Boston sites now under construction in Roslindale, Mattapan, or Dorchester. The exact location will be selected by HFH Boston based upon the specific build site requirements. Work will be available for all skill levels included none. For more information on HFH Boston and the site where they build go to <http://www.habitatboston.org/> and <http://www.habitatboston.org/projects.html>

King's Chapel has supported HFH Boston both financially and with multiple volunteer efforts. We need 10 to complete our team. If you haven't done this before, please consider joining now. Each participant is asked to donate $40 to HFH Boston which will be matched by the KC Community Action Committee. If the donation is a hardship special accommodations will be considered.

To enroll or for more information contact Peter Sexton at 781-383-9028 or petersexton@alum.mit.edu.
